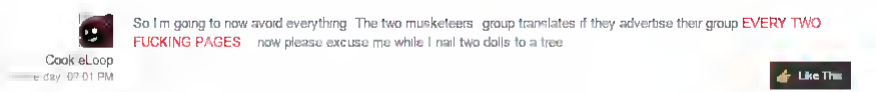
A note from the scanlators

First, we have to apologize to our esteemed readers on Bato.to. Especially to CookieLoop, I guess, since he/she/it decided to voice out :)



So I m going to now avoid everything The two musketeers group translates if they advertise their group EVERY TWO FUCKING PAGES now please excuse me while I nail two dolls to a tree

It's leecher sites and it's readers that we, no, EVERY scanlation group in existence, have a grudge against, but you guys had to be dragged into this for this plan to work. For that, please accept our sincerest apologies again. As for the reason we did this, read on and you'll find out.

If you've read the last chapter(which I'm assuming you have), you must've noticed that there were a SHITLOAD of filler pages.

Well, we had to do that. EVERY FUCKING TIME we uploaded a chapter, leecher sites would take our work, re-publish it on their site, and MONETIZE it. We don't get a cent out of their earnings. The same goes for EVERY scanlation you read on a site other than Bato.to. Yes, you people reading this on another site, be it Mangafox, Kissmanga, Mangadoom, Mangajoy, and Mangago, be embarassed of yourself for supporting those sons of bitches.

They do no work, yet earn money off other people's work. Why would you support people like them?

What can you do to help us (and every scanlator of other mangas that you're reading)?

1. Read it on the scanlation group's site

Some scanlation groups, like ours, have a website where we release our scanlations, complete with download links first before releasing it on Bato.to. For example, our site, thetwomusketeers.weebly.com (in case you didn't catch it last time :P), hosts our scans for two days before we upload it to Bato.to.

2. READ MANGA ON BATO.TO

If you need a manga reader that hosts a wide range of scans, use Bato.to. It is one of the only sites in existence that doesn't rip off scanlators. Yep, dump the one you're using right now (if you're not already a Bato.to user) and head over to Bato.to!

Wait!!!

Just spare us a little more time!

So, as to what The Two Musketeers plan to do with our scans from now on. Rest assured, we'll not do this on every chapter. We'll only do it when the views on our mangas on leecher sites rise above a point that we don't like. We'll have giant watermarks ready next time!

Pfft. Jokes aside, you should really read our scans on our site. It does us no good to advertise ourselves, but luckily for us, Bato.to user YohAsakura decided to check out our site and gave us a little review! Woohoo!!! A big round of applause for him/her/it!!! :)

Don't blame us dude Do you know how many le-ch r r once they get p bl e r E
I understand this but every two pages s too much maybe every 5 pages would be alright so you'd only have to see that page 4-5 times a chapter but nobody wants to see it every other page
EDIT Actually screw t guys I think you should just go read it on their site each time it updates here I read the Halloween chapter the again and I actually quite liked t n fact I liked the v sual format there more it was n long strip format felt like read a non colored webtoon.
